Grand Hotel

My dear Kathleen;

Your charming letter reached me in the Hotel where I am leaving since my return in September, as my house is to be rebuilt and — of course not yet finished. — You are "en pleine" activity; as a Subscriber of the "Musical Courier" I have the great pleasure of following

Your successes; so I read the Toronto criticisms before I got Your letter. —

I had a little misfortune; just before the Beethoven Festival at Moscow; I do not know how to say in English;

J'ai fait une chute, by entering the house; The surgeon did not let me go out, keeping me a few days in bed;

I refused Kussewitzky; but he postponed the Concert

II

asking to come if possible, so I went there with my leg in bandage; people seems to be satisfied; so a few days after I played the Concerto here, always with my wounded leg. -

After I became quite sick and had to lay in bed for two weeks! It was the first time in my life, that I refused my lessons; I should not like a second accident

of the same; feeling in health and not move — terrible!
Now, since a few days I am allowed to move in my rooms, and in 3 days I hope to go out for a little fresh air and the Conservatory.
Last week took place the Competition for the scholarship of 1000 roubles founded on my name.
Piastro, a wonderful boy, had the prize. He finished the Conservatory last year.

It seems that Edely Brown made a great success at Berlin. — There will make her debut Miss Schaeffeld in March; she gave a Recital last week at Dresden
and, can you imagine,
had beautiful natives!!
I shall be very busy this month, two Quartets Recitals here and in Moscow with Mend, Essipoff, and a tour in the South with Mend.

In a few days

It hopes to be in my appendage.

Hein, about 3 weeks. —

Write me, please, how You are going on; about Your Recitals; what they say about Lincolnton and do not forget my little arrangement of dear Lowell especially in Boston as the Editor, (I wish I suppose) leaves there. — And now, my dear child, I wish You health and force to continue Your triumphal tour.

Best kisses for You and mother.
